Celebrate National Literacy Month

“Children are made readers on the laps of their parents.” Emilie Buchwald

SEPTEMBER 2019

A love for reading is timeless, shared across generations

For many, the love for books starts at an early age in the stories our parents read to us. Providing your children with opportunities to listen to stories will help them learn to read and comprehend on their own. They also begin to think more actively as they listen to stories and picture the scenes described, wondering how the story will develop.

Don't have a library card? Come to the Hardin County Library during September! All new cardholders during the month of September get to spin the prize wheel AND get entered into the raffle for our Library Card Sign-up Month gift basket!

Here are some ways
you can promote literacy in your home

1. Set aside time each day for reading. Be a reading role model.
2. Keep books visible around the house.
3. Make regular visits to the library and attend story hours.
4. Read the book version of your child's favorite movie.
5. Ask our librarian about Kindergarten Readiness resources.
6. Connect reading with writing, encourage your child to draw and write.
